

Limericks by Form 3LB
School Year 2008-2009

There was a Young Man of Kabul
Who always drank cans of Red Bull
He started to fly
And he reached the sky
The energetic Young Man of Kabul
(Laura S.)

There was and Old Man of Beijing
Who lived in the house of the King
He dressed like a ghost
And frightened his host
That funny Old Man of Beijing
(Laura C.)

There was a Young Woman of Frisco
Who frequently went to the disco
She danced all night through
And said 'La la loo'
That swinging Young Woman of Frisco
(Alessia)

There was an Old Man of Lugano
Who was always playing the piano
He sang like O. Bloom
On a night without moon
This pathetic Old Man of Lugano
(Francesca M.)

There was a Young Man in a pit
Who wanted to look like Brad Pitt
He looked for Jolie
But he found only me
This lucky Young Man in the pit
(Chiara C.)

There was a Young Man of Shanghai
Who was such a good samurai
He used his big swords
And said magical words
This fantastic Young Man of Shanghai
(Giulia C.)

There was a Young Girl with a bee
Who had always lived on a tree
She trained her new pet
To bother her cat
That genial Young Girl with a bee
(Francesca Z.)

There was a Young Man from Spoleto
Who wanted to marry a potato
He bought her a parrot
But she married a carrot
This eccentric Young Man of Spoleto
(Beatrice)

There was a Young Girl of Dubai
Who was always wearing a tie
She became a young man
And married Joanne
This confused Little Girl of Dubai
(Elisa)

There was an Old Maid of New Castle
That wanted to have lots of muscles
She worked out in the gym
With a strong man called Tim
That Old but Strong Maid of New Castle
(Francesca B.)

There was an Old Man of Suello
That wanted to be a marshmallow
He was put by his wife
To roast on a knife
That tender Old Man of Suello
(Daniela)

